SOL. MORITZ & CO.

The Daily Republican.

P. E. HAMMER, J. R. MOORE, HANSHER & MOSSER, Publishers
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT Decatur, Ill., as second class mail matter.
THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 14, 1901.

UNDER the new law of this state for the regulation of the sale of drugs, medicines and poisons, the recently appointed state board of pharmacy has formally organized, by the appointment of George Buck, the well-known Chicago druggist, as president, and Frank Fleury, of Springfield, as secretary.

The floods in Central Iowa during the past few days have been very destructive, especially to railroad property. Many of the roads have been washed out to such an extent as to compel their entire abandonment for the time being, and the mails have been interrupted very considerably.

Mrs. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, whose health was some time ago reported to be rapidly failing, has improved considerably within a few weeks, but was terribly prostrated by the news of the attack upon the life of President Garfield, which brought up the bitter recollections of her own sad experience. She is now living with her sister, the wife of Hon. Ninian W. Edwards, at Springfield.

GEN. GARFIELD once wrote the following eloquent sentence: "When two hundred and fifty thousand brave spirits passed from the field of honor through that thin veil to the presence of God, and when at last its parting folds admitted the martyr president to the company of dead heroes of the republic, the nation stood so near the veil that the whispers of God were heard by the children of men."

GATS, the brilliant correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, gets a little history in the following: "Cyrus W. Field in two days has raised $120,000 for Garfield—the largest subscription ever raised in such a short time for any person. Jackson had to borrow $10,000 after leaving the presidency. Clay's debts were paid by Pennsylvania iron-makers. Jefferson had set such lessons in meanness to the people that he was debared from successful begging, and had to resort to a lottery. Madison asked high prices for papers he ought to have given the government, in order to pay his stepson's gambling debts. Grant received three subscriptions raised for him during fifteen years of time."

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Senator Ben Harrison, in an interview published in the Indianapolis Journal, expressed the opinion that if the president grows worse an extra session of the senate will be called, and added:

In the absence of the two New York senators the Democrats will have the power to elect the president pro tem. It has generally been the custom to elect the senior senator, and if this should be done Senator Bayard would be chosen. Objections are being made against him on account of him not being a good presiding officer. I think a majority of the senate would favor Senator Harris, of Tennessee, who is an excellent presiding officer. I think it would not be necessary or advisable to call the house together. The result would be a great wrangle over the speakership, which should not take place at the present time. As long as the president retains his mental faculties he, of course, is not incapacitated from acting as president. The talk about that clause of the constitution where it speaks of the incapacity does not apply to the present case. If he were unconscious or insane, then I suppose that section of the constitution would apply. He is now competent to attend to business, and doubtless would be his physicians to allow him.

Ohio papers speak of the great scarcity of harvest hands in that state. One paper says the women are assisting to gather in the harvest. It further specifies that a young lady who graduated at Delaware last week drove a self-raking reaper all day the fourth, notwithstanding the hot weather, and other girls are equally plucky. Now, the governor of Ohio ought to make a demand upon its citizens holding office outside of the state to return and do duty during harvest, just as they do upon election occasions. If one-half of its stalwart sons would thus return and labor as well as they vote, the "sweet girl graduates" would not be called upon to do men's work during harvest.

SOME years ago a bankrupt Michigan editor offered his creditors a warrant for 120 acres of land in satisfaction of their claims, and they refused it, preferring to take other property valued at $250,000. The despised acres now yield the former bankrupt editor an annual income of $60,000 or more from mines.

THE LOW RATE OF INTEREST.

Boston Commercial Bulletin, July 9.
Ever since the resumption of specie payments, coupled with the large issues of government indebtedness, the rates of interest have been gradually lessening, until now the legitimate profit of business, as expressed by the banks, has been reduced to the minimum. In the meantime the volume of the business of the country has expanded to an unprecedented extent, and there are no signs of a check to it. This business represents a value entering into the billions, annually. But the bills payable representing these vast transactions are met by checks to the extent of at least 95 per cent. Thus, while the business of the country is liquidated with single pieces of negotiable paper, 95 per cent. of the money represented in that business serves the purpose of being diverted to other purposes, and thus is instrumental in keeping the market fully supplied with funds; and this supply of money in turn has a tendency to keep down the rates of interest. This comparatively new factor in the money and business systems of the country constitutes one of the most powerful regulators of the movement of the volume of currency in the market for both legitimate and speculative purposes. It is now within the power or province of no man to "lock up" the currency, and thus create a temporary stringency in the money market. The immense volume of currency afloat is proof against the machinations of even the biggest "bull" on Wall street. He may cause a slight advance in the rates for a short time, but the preponderating weight of the circulating medium would soon restore things to their normal condition. In other words, there is now no more chance for more "Black Fridays." Again, the fact should not be lost sight of that all the modern inventions used in business in these latter days—the railroad, the telegraph and the telephone—confer upon a community benefits that have a tendency to diminish the capital requisite for the transaction of business. But when a superabundance of capital is added to the actual wants of the country, the rates of interest must necessarily be low. And hence, in view of the immense transactions, with small profits, a "stable" six per cent is better than a "nominal" six per cent, with a higher rate of interest. With new commercial conditions, the debt rearranged, the national credit firmly established, and the industries prospering, our country accommodates itself easily to the new order of things and finds all the elements of success of a people underlying a low rate of interest for the use of money.

Electrical Light Patents.

Scientific American.
About 175 patents have so far been granted for patents relating to electric lighting, in this country, and about 300 more applications for patents thereon are now pending.

When we consider the large number of patents now existing for telegraphing instruments, telephones, alarms, electrical batteries, switches, and divisions of electrical devices, it will readily be understood that the patent office at Washington is rapidly becoming a great storehouse of novelties relating to electricity, and that this branch of invention is already one of extraordinary proportions.

AN Ohio paper says that a young lady who graduated in a calico dress a few years ago is now married to a railway superintendent who has an income of half a million a year. This may be taken as a basis for the regulation of graduating dresses hereafter. Had she worn alpaca she might have done even better and caught the general manager of the road. On the other hand, had she bloomed forth in white swiss, she might have captured the president of the concern, with his untold millions, while, had she worn silk, with point lace and diamonds, she might have scooped in the conductor of a passenger train, and had onyx staircases and alabaster stairs to her house, and cut the wives of the officers of the road as society altogether too thin for her style. This thing ought to be a lesson to girl graduates and a sharp warning to patronize their tailors liberally.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Cost of Cars.

A box freight car costs from $400 to $450, a milk car costs about $100 more. A baggage car costs from $2,000 to $2,200. The usual price of a Wagner sleeping car is $12,000. Drawing room cars cost about $18,000; the ordinary mail car cost about $2,000 to $3,000. An ordinary passenger car costs about $4,500. The New York elevated railway cars cost from $2,000 to $3,000 each.

Jealousy.

Some poet has said that "All torments of the damned we find in only this, Oh Jealousy, thy tyrant of the mind." This is grandly sweeping and magnificently inaccurate. Any sufferer from indigestion knows to the contrary. Indigestion, the villain of the tragedy played among the gastric juices of the stomach can, and does double discount the horrors of jealousy. Jealousy is often an attendant upon the latter, and when indigestion is removed this jaundiced companion of a deranged liver flies. T. J. VAN DYKE is the best known remedy extant for impaired digestion, deranged liver, and diseases of the bowels and kidneys.

DR. A. J. STONER, Agent. [Jul 14-4w]m PARTICK HENRY was twice married and left fifteen children, and there are now living probably more than one hundred of his descendants. William Wirt Henry, a member of the Richmond bar and representative of that district in the state senate, is the grandson. Senator Boone, of Kentucky, is his grand-son, and General Henry, of Johnston, is his great nephew. Also William C. Preston, the distinguished senator in congress from South Carolina.

The Delaware Peach Crop a Failure.

The Wilmington (Del.) Evening-Evening publishes full reports from peach growers in all parts of the peninsula, showing that the "June fall" has left bare most of the winter trees that have escaped the last winter's frost. The peach crop is a total failure throughout the state of Delaware. Many orchards, except those along the water courses, will not produce more than a few baskets. Wilkesboro county, Maryland, will not ship over 500 or 800 baskets, and nothing is hoped for from Talbot county. On the coast of Sussex county, Delaware, a few orchards will yield from one-quarter to one-half a crop. One mile from the shore the orchards are bare.

The Germans of Indianapolis complain bitterly of the interference with their mode of passing Sunday to which they are exposed. They like to have their music, and lager and coffee in the open air with their families on Sunday afternoons, as they have been accustomed to do in Germany. Within the city, however, these enjoyments are interfered with by the temperance people and police, and if they go to gardens outside of the city limits they are attacked by bands of rowdies, who take advantage of the same time to rove around with an eye to fighting and to mischief. In the city, the Germans, the police interfere when not wanted, and outside they refuse to interfere when they are wanted. They therefore call for organization to resist this condition of affairs, which they pronounce intolerable.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The News says it having been held in Albany that if another caucus is stated in Albany would withdraw, inquiry was made of him to day on this point. Conkling replied emphatically that he was in this race to stay; that all his advisers from Albany were satisfactory, and that he would not withdraw under any circumstances. When asked what he meant by saying that his dispatches were satisfactory, he replied that ex-Marshall Payne and Speaker Sharpe assured him that no election could be had unless his claims were considered. "We can and will hold out," telegraphed Sharpe this morning.

Mr. Conkling said, in further conversation, that if a regularly called caucus is held, where each member can vote for his choice, "without being cowed by a subsidized press," that he had no fears of his own nomination. He said further that since Platt had withdrawn without his consent he would not attempt to interfere in the selection of Platt's successor.

THE cremation business at Washington, Pennsylvania, is to be abandoned. It doesn't pay. While cremation has been discussed successfully as a theory for several years, it has not been made popular as a practice, and an experience of nearly three years has demonstrated that the people had rather be eaten by worms than burned to ashes.

NEW YORK, July 13.—A Washington special says the cabinet officers who called this morning, Postmaster-General James and Secretaries Lincoln and Windom, fairly beamed with pleasure at the figures of the official bulletin. The fact that Secretary Blaine has informed the vice-president that his presence here is no longer considered necessary by the cabinet, has tended to increase the confidence in the favorable progress of the president's case. When asked last evening when he would return here Mr. Arthur said he hoped not until next December. The illness of Senator Jones, at whose house the vice-president has remained, may cause him to remain yet a day or two. Dr. Boynton said this morning "The history of the last twenty-four hours adds greatly to my confidence. The fever last night did not quite reach the point of Monday night, while this morning's condition is much better than yesterday's. I look now for a steady improvement. The introduction of the tube which induced a freer flow of pus may have something to do with the improvement."

TELEGRAPHIC BETTER AND BETTER.

The Distinguished Patient Still Improving.

WHAT THE DOCTORS SAY.

WASHINGTON, July 14, 8:30 a. m.
The president passed a comfortable night, and continues to do well. Pulse 80, temperature 90, respiration 22.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The following telegram was sent by the attending surgeons to the consulting surgeons this afternoon.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 1 p. m.—Dr. Frank H. Hamilton and Dr. H. Agnew: The fever yesterday afternoon was less marked and occurred at a later hour than on the previous day, and to-day, for the first time, the president's morning temperature fell to a normal point. The general progress of his symptoms appear more favorable than hitherto. During the last twenty-four hours he has taken thirty-two ounces of milk and one of rum. This morning he had also a slice of milk toast and chewed the breast of a woodcock, but did not care to swallow the meat. He had last night one-quarter of a grain of sulphate morphia hypodermically. In no 24 hours during the past week has he received more than a single dose of this quantity, and slept well during the night. This morning he received 10 grains of bi-sulphate of quinia. Yesterday at 7 p. m. his pulse was 104; temperature 102.1; respiration 24. To-day at 8:30 p. m. his pulse was 90; temperature 98.5; respiration 20. At 1 p. m. his pulse was 94; temperature 100.6; respiration 22.

(Signed) D. W. BLISS, J. K. BARNES, J. J. WOODWARD, ROBERT REYBURN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 3:40 p. m.—Dr. Bliss reports the president's condition at this hour more favorable than at the same time yesterday. His pulse is now 102. His temperature has not been taken since about 2 o'clock. It was then slightly above normal. His general symptoms are favorable, and he is resting quietly.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Secretary Blaine sent the following by cable this morning:

To J. R. LOWELL, U. S. MINISTER, LONDON: The president's condition this morning is much better than at any time since he was wounded. Temperature normal, respiration very nearly normal, pulse 96. The pain in the feet and legs is greatly diminished. The weather is very warm, but the president's room is kept as cool as desired. (Signed) J. G. BLAINE, Sec'y.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—There has been some uneasiness among the president's most intimate friends over a report that Dr. Boynton had made a careful examination of the president, and found his condition more critical than reported by the regular physicians, and that the bulletins did not correctly represent the actual facts. It was ascertained that Dr. Boynton had made some private statements conflicting with the official bulletins, and that upon examination he had found the pulse higher and respiration more frequent than given officially. Dr. Boynton is a homeopathic physician, who is permitted to be with the president at Mrs. Garfield's request. He thought that pus was beginning to form in the abdomen, and that the president was growing too weak for safety. Dr. Boynton said yesterday that he considered the president's condition quite critical. Since the developments of this morning, however, the doctor is much encouraged, and hopes for a steady improvement of the president's condition.

At 1:35 p. m. the president's condition was very easy, but with a slight increase of fever.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The early morning news from the Executive Mansion was the most satisfactory to day of any previous day since the shooting. There was a drop of the pulse to 90 degrees, while the patient's temperature was actually at a normal state. This, after the slightly unfavorable symptoms of two days ago, was hailed with great satisfaction by his physicians, and with a good deal of exuberance on the part of the public. Not only were these practical evidences of improvement, but the general condition of the president was pronounced by his medical attendants as in harmony therewith. He was able to take solid food for the first time. Besides his regular allowance of old rum and milk he was able to dispose of a slice of milk toast and a piece of the breast of a woodcock served on toast. This improvement, strangely enough, followed a very restless night. The pain in his legs and feet, which has been incessant for ten days, has considerably subsided. The physicians are more sanguine to-day than ever. Dr. Reyburn pronounces the stories about the president's increased weakness, as untrue. That the president is very weak he does not deny, nor yet dispute his condition as stated in the dispatches. It is the assertion that the president is going down hill, that the physicians unite in ridiculing. His face has assumed a slight, sunken look, though its color is no longer bad. Of course, everybody knows as well as the doctors that a man who loses thirty pounds of flesh and blood in ten days has sacrificed a good deal of vitality with it, nor does any sensible man suppose that he can rapidly regain any of that strength and vitality on a few ounces of rum and milk daily. Now that the patient is able to take substantial food, even in small quantities, the prospect is materially improved. The slice of milk toast was really eaten to-day, but the breast of woodcock was simply chewed and the fiber not swallowed. The wound is said by Dr. Bliss to be doing splendidly. Mrs. Garfield is by his side three-fourths of the time and is indefatigable. She is far from showing her own complete recovery. Very little or nothing is going on at the White House. Vice President Arthur left for New York this morning, owing to favorable symptoms of the president's progress. This step was taken after consulting the surgeons and cabinet. It was necessary from important business in New York.

ALBANY, July 13.—Senator McFarthy, of the senate caucus committee, this morning sent a reply to the assembly caucus committee declining to join with them in a call for a caucus, referring to his former letter for his reasons.

The ballot for the short term was: Lapham, 63; Potter, 52; Conkling, 3; Fish, 1; necessary to choice, 78. For the long term: Kernan, 51; Miller, 71; Wheeler, 23; Evans, 1; Adams, 1; Chapman, 2; Fish, 2; Daniels, 3; Storm, 1; necessary to choice, 78. Adjourned.

DURING the rain fall this morning quite a number of cellars in the business part of the city were partly filled with water, to the great surprise of the owners of the buildings. The cellars are connected with the sewer pipe with drain tile, and yet the water failed to disappear. Fully six inches of water remained in the cellars of J. R. Race & Co's and Morehouse

& Wells' buildings after the rain ceased to fall, and on investigation it was found that the water had flowed into the cellars through the drain tile forced into them from the sewer pipe, which was evidently too small to carry off the water. Larger sewer pipes should be placed in Merchant alley if they are not large enough to carry off the water, and it seems they are not.

SEVERAL heavy barges collided at the tamps, and sympathized with the boys.

picked what proved to be a bad day and evening for their moonlight dance and picnic and free exhibition running at the fair grounds. The boys felt that they ought to do something in recognition of the cordial reception they received at the hands of the Decatur people on their triumphal return from Council Bluffs on June 13th, and had hoped to see a big crowd at the fair grounds at their summer reception, but the threatening weather kept hundreds of people away. Nevertheless there was a respectable turnout.

At 6:30 the baskets were emptied of their contents and all present partook heartily of the spread which had been arranged by the ladies. Dancing to the music of Prof. Goodhue's orchestra commenced on the amphitheatre at 9 o'clock and continued until 12. There were about 500 visitors on the grounds during the afternoon and evening.

CRIMINAL NEWS.

Benjamin Walter "bowed up" today yesterday and made things rather lively for Mrs. Paul Hickok at her home on East Malone street, using offensive language toward the lady and shaking up the household furniture to the damage of the same. Ben is an even tempered resident of the fourth ward, but when the women quarrel and he is under the influence of liquor, he generally feels like taking a hand in all the rackets going on, believing no doubt that he is better qualified to restore peace than any one else.

Justice Curtis fined Ben $5 and costs, after hearing the statements of the defendant, Officer Brewer and others.

"Prof" Bill Blake, who persistently plays the fiddle and does it miserably, rested his frame in the county jail last night to default of bail in the sum of $300. Bill was arrested yesterday by Marshal Hines on a state warrant sworn out by Mrs. Nancy J. Dawson, who charges the prisoner with enticing away an infant from his mother for evil purposes. The fugitive is the complainant's daughter, aged 14 years. The defendant is having a preliminary hearing before Justice Mo-ditt this afternoon.

THE officers of the Presbyterian Sal-ubath School had made every necessary arrangement for taking the children to the fair grounds this morning in a Wa-put a stop to all proceedings. The picnic is indefinitely postponed. It will probably be given one fine day next week.

There were lively times for a little bit at the Union Depot this morning, attending the departure of about 40 excurionists in the elegant coaches on the Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield Railway to Cincinnati and other points in the east. The tickets were to be had at $3.50 each, good to return up to and including the 17th. Among the Decatur people on the train our reporter noticed W. E.

Scruggs, bound for the mountains of Virginia, to be absent several months;

Sherry Tupper, bound for New York City; Mr. and Mrs. John Archer, W. H.

Starr, W. H. Acuff, Mrs. I. A. Buckingham and daughter, Donna; H. Mueller, Geo. P. Miller, David Hamsher, W. W.

Plant, Mrs. C. C. Trester and son, Misses

Amelia Harry and Nellie Harry, Judge

Thornton and son; Brock Irwin, to be absent six weeks at Cincinnati and other towns in Ohio. Paul Manson represented the colored population of Jacksonville, and seemed specially anxious to know whether the reporter represented a republican or democratic journal. He seemed happier when he learned that his name was to be printed in a paper of his faith.

The train pulled out a few minutes ahead of schedule time, and several parties got left. They went at noon.

On yesterday afternoon the excursion train on the Illinois Central road, bound for Clear Lake, Iowa, left the Union depot. Those who purchased round trip tickets in Decatur at $9.35 each, good for 60 days, were Frank Bickes, Will Payne, George Lewis, William Dalton and a man whose name our reporter failed to get.

Mr. and Mrs. George V. Loring, on East of friends present.

NEWS FROM NEWTON.

The Freeze Out—A Case of Contempt of Court Against a Railroad Manager.

And still the war between the citizens of Newton, Jasper county, Ill., and the officers of the Peoria, Decatur & Evansville railway is in progress, but the fight may end on Saturday next. It's a queer case. The following special telegram gives additional particulars concerning the freeze out and the present condition of affairs:

Newton, Ill., July 12.—The trouble with the P. D. & E. Railroad company at this place has assumed a new phase.

On last Thursday John B. Cohrs, on behalf of the railroad company, met State's Attorney Fithian and several of our citizens at Olney and held a consultation in regard to the matter. Mr. Cohrs proposed to leave the settlement of the matter to the arbitration of ten business men at Newton, five to be selected by each party, whose decision was to be final. To this

Mr. Fithian agreed, provided that the business should be resumed on the road at this point by Monday, July 11. This Mr. Cohrs promised should be done, and it was thought by all concerned that the matter was settled. When Monday came, however, no trains were stopped at this place, and the road refused to receive freight or passengers for Newton. Thereupon State's Attorney Fithian ordered the sheriff of Peoria county to serve the writ of attachment in the last named case on U. L. Bradbury, the General Manager of the road, for contempt of court, in disobeying the injunction issued by the Circuit Court.

Mr. Bradbury will have a hearing before Judge Jones to-morrow. It is believed that Mr. Cohrs acted in good faith in the agreement to arbitrate, but that Mr. Bradbury refused to carry it out.

Mr. Cohrs has gone to New York to consult with the president of the road, and there will be a meeting of the stockholders and Directors next Saturday, when, it is understood, some of the officers who brought on this trouble will be asked to resign, and a big family quarrel is brewing in the camp of the managers. When the trouble began the railroad company had many friends in this county, who, now that they have violated a plain agreement, are doing all they can to aid the State's Attorney.

SHORT ABOUT IT.

The Peoria Journal of the 13th contained the following allusion to the racket:

"Next Monday Manager Bradbury, of the P. D. & E. R., will go down to Newton to answer a charge of contempt of court, preferred by the county attorney of Jasper county. Messrs. Cohrs, Col-leigh and Anderson are likewise included in the warrant, but it is understood that only Mr. Bradbury will be held. The facts in the case are as follows: There is a narrow gauge depot within 75 feet of the P. D. & E. depot in Newton. The law says that all passenger trains must come to a full stop within 200 feet of any railroad crossing. The P. D. & E. trains have been in the habit of running up to the depot and stopping there, thus technically violating the law, but not doing it in reality, for at the depot they come to a full stop and lie there a full minute, or the ordinary time required to take on passengers and freight. The county attorney, whether he wanted to blackmail the company or show his importance, brought at one time 27 suits for the technical violation of this law. He annoyed the company so much that they finally complied with this law, but they discharged their agent, look out the telegraph instrument and removed the operator. One freight train stops there a day, but as there is no agent the conductors transact all the business. Freight is taken for Newton as for all other points, but as there is no agent the money has to be prepaid. The road, thereupon called in the agent of the railroad and warehouse commissioners, and Bradbury is going down there on Monday to see about it. It is a case of fight. The road considers that the suits were begun against them out of spite by an interested lawyer to try and work up business against them. No accident has ever occurred at Newton, and they have kept within the limit of the law. They now keep within its letter. All trains stop within 800 feet of the railway crossing, and then pull by the station, if that is where they were stopping, with the exception of a freight train once a day.

Welcome Rain.

Last night and this forenoon this vicinity was again visited by welcome and refreshing rains, which also fell in different parts of the county. They will prove a big boost to the growing corn and help along all sorts of vegetation. The prospects are that Macon county will have an average crop of superior corn this year, if the wheat yield is comparatively light.

The president's pulse is reported to be at 30 this morning, the atmosphere is cooler, and everybody ought to be happy.

THE BOUND UNLOOSED.

Charles Thompson, Franklin Street, says:

I have suffered for a long time with constipation and tried almost every purgative advised, but with no resulting in temporary relief, and after constipation still more aggravated.

I was told about your Searing, Brown and tried it, I can now say I am cured and though some months have elapsed still no return.

I shall however, always keep some on hand in case of old complaint returning. Price, $1.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, and that

SCORVILL'S BLOOD PURIFIER will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing Scrofula, Syphilitic disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, all Nervous disorders and Debility. It corrects indigestion, it rests the old feed young drive out of the system, and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that human flesh is heir to.

A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health renewer, for it acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system. 14d&wt

The Telegraphers' Thanks.

Mr. Thomas T. Eckert, General Manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., sent from New York the following telegram to Col. Clowry, his general superintendent at Chicago:

The prompt and satisfactory manner in which our employees have met the emergencies of the service during the past few days deserves more than a passing recognition. Disorganizing Sunday and holiday hours, they have remained on duty day and night, enabling us to keep the people all over the country constantly advised of the condition of the president. You are authorized to see that in your division they are properly remunerated for the extraordinary service they have so willingly rendered, and to express to them the thanks of the company.

Manager Getty, of the Decatur Western Union Office, proved himself equal to the emergency, and was up early and late receiving the regular bulletins and receiving and sending special dispatches about the assassination for various parties. The telephone came in good play, and was used generally in spreading the news as rapidly as possible throughout the city. The bell at the REPUBLICAN was kept jangling constantly on the 21, 4th, 5th and 6th, by parties wishing to learn the latest.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J.

Coughlin, of Summerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we use to ask for it the attention of our readers: He says: "On the fall of 1891 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1897 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar.

I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone that at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of

DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE

LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day

I feel in better spirits than I have the last three years."

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that everyone afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my case. My cough just almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work.
